

Women Inquire About Us

We are glad that you are interested in finding out more about Women Inquire &trade;. Our headquarters are located in Toronto, Ontario and we have recently opened new office location in the United States.

Our success depends on you....yes you!

We understand that consumers need more reliable information on skin care products. Most reviews you read online are made by employees that work for the skin care manufacturers.

So we decided to create a safe, reliable resource for consumers to read unbiased reviews on the newest skin care products and procedures.

You will know exactly how products have fared against each other and we get straight to the point in our reviews. We have hired young recent chemistry and biology scientists to help with the testing of these products.

We have several hundred volunteers who try the skin care products from weeks to months and keep an online journal to keep track of their success or failures.

Our mission is to save you money! Don't waste time trying products that do not work, we will inform you which skin types do well with each products. Get a list of ingredients in each skin care product as well as their retail price.

We provide all the information you need, so you dont have to search for it.
